Cardinals Take Seventh Ballot

Eisenhower Returns To Vote Battle

Speeches Set In Charleston, W. Va., Pittsburgh Today

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower returns to the campaign wars today to fire new salvos at the Democrats in West Virginia and Pennsylvania speeches.

White House aides predicted the President's stretch drive for election of a Republican Congress Nov. 4 will be marked by more of the bang-em-hard technique that blossomed on the cross-country tour he concluded last Thursday.

Eisenhower arranged a late afternoon departure by plane for Charleston, W. Va., and a talk at the Kanawha County Airport.

Then he will fly on to Pittsburgh for a major political address to-night at the Syria Mosque auditorium. That speech will be carried over an 18-state television network into several areas where the Republicans are particularly hard-pressed.

Immediately after the Pittsburgh speech, the President will travel to New York for an overnight stay and some politicking there Tuesday on behalf of the congressional and state GOP ticket.

In West Virginia and his adopted state of Pennsylvania, indications are Eisenhower will cut loose again at Democrats whom he described last week as radical and left wing—and at an opposition party he said is hopelessly split right down the middle.

After a low key start on his coast-to-coast tour, Eisenhower started strong in California and continued it in Chicago.

In West Virginia, the first stop on Eisenhower's latest political trek, the Democrats are given a good chance of picking up two U.S. Senate seats. They are held currently by Republican Sens. Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell.

Revercomb is bidding for a full six-year term against Rep. Robert C. Byrd, Hoblitzell, running for the two remaining years of the term of the late Democratic Sen. Matthew Neely, is pitted against former Rep. Jennings Randolph.

West Virginia's House delegation now is four Democrats to two Republicans, and the division may stay that way.

In Pennsylvania, where Eisenhower will cast his vote at Gettysburg a week from Tuesday, there also is cause for Republican worry.

Lawrence Seen Winner

Current signs point to victory for the Democratic candidate for governor, 69-year-old Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh. His GOP opponent is Arthur T. McGonigle, 62, a retired pretzel manufacturer from Reading.

The U.S. Senate race is closer with Democratic Gov. George Leader generally considered a bit ahead of GOP Rep. Hugh Scott. Here again it is a Republican seat at stake—that being vacated by Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), who did not seek re-election.

As for the House, Pennsylvania Democrats are given a chance to take from two to six seats now held by Republicans. The present House lineup is 17 Republicans, 12 Democrats and one Democratic vacancy.

Actress Has Daughter At Hospital In Dublin
DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Actress Rose Hange, who accompanied her husband Don Murray to Dublin where he is making the movie "Shake Hands With The Devil," gave birth to a 6 pounds, 10 ounce, girl this morning.

The child, the Murphys' second, was born at the Rotunda Maternity Hospital here.

High Pressure Jobs Boost

Chances Of Heart Ailments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Men who fight deadlines constantly and hard-driving executives in the competitive business world are the most likely candidates for heart disease, a medical research team reported Sunday.

This finding came from a study of a group of individuals in high-tension jobs, compared with a similar group whose daily routine lacked the pressure of competition.

The study indicated that alcohol consumption, cigarette smoking, overweight, exercise status and diet had little or nothing to do with the inclination toward cardiac disease. Tension was the big item.

In the group which showed the tendency toward heart trouble were city and managing editors of San Francisco Bay area newspapers, television officials, advertising firm executives, representatives of engineering firms and high officers of business corporations. There were 83 subjects.

To match these researchers picked 83 men of similar age from non-competitive fields. They included city employees, embalmers, bookkeepers and other engaged mainly in routine jobs.

Mass Killer Girl Friend Facing Trial

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Caril Fugate, 15, pert, brunette companion of mass murderer Charles Starkweather, goes on trial today, possibly for her life, on charges of helping her bandy-legged boyfriend in at least one of the slayings.

Although a minor, the hazel-eyed girl will be tried in the same district court where Starkweather was convicted and sentenced to death by electrocution on two counts of first degree murder.

Caril has been charged with the same two counts, premeditated murder and murder while committing a robbery in the rifle slaying of Robert Jensen, 17, Bennett, Neb. Caril has denied the charge and contends she was Starkweather's hostage during his murder spree.

Starkweather and Caril were captured in Wyoming last January and the red-haired former garbage collector later signed a statement admitting 11 slayings, implicating Caril in several of them.

Hope Fades For Miners

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Workers dug deeper into the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine today, seeking more bodies of the 77 men buried some 13,000 feet from the entrance to Canada's deepest coal mine. No hope was held that any were still living.

Sixteen bodies have been brought out of the mine, where a rock upheaval deep below the surface Thursday night blocked tunnels and unloosed pockets of poisonous gas.

No miners have been found alive since Friday afternoon, when the 81st survivor reached safety.

Eisenhower Calls Off Weekly Press Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will not hold a news conference this week because of the political campaign.

Announcing this today, the White House noted that Eisenhower will be away from the capital starting Wednesday until perhaps mid-day on Wednesday. He ordinarily meets newsmen on Wednesday.

Carrier's Visit Stirs Near Riot

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — A goodwill visit by the U.S. aircraft carrier Essex turned into a near-riot today as some 40,000 persons shoved and pushed to tour the ship.

Police borrowed a fire hose from the ship and turned it on the crowd when it threatened to spill over into the water. Many women became hysterical at the drenching.

Finally the ship was closed to the public.

Adams Departs From D. C. Post Minus Fanfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without fanfare or announcement, Sherman Adams has stepped out of the White House, where for nearly six years he was President Eisenhower's top assistant.

He announced his resignation in a nationwide television and radio talk on Sept. 22, but said then he would stay on until there had been an orderly transfer to others of the work he had been doing.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty confirmed during the weekend that Adams had left Friday after a farewell chat with the President.

Newsman Flies In Fastest Plane

Describes Trip Aboard 'Missile With Man Inside'

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Air Force took a general off the waiting list to permit Associated Press Aviation Writer Vern Haugland to become the first newsman to fly in the new F106, a plane termed "a missile with a man inside."

By VERN HAUGLAND
TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The new Convair F106 interceptor—the nation's nearest approach to a pushbutton war plane—plunges into its takeoff run like a startled race horse in a headlong runaway.

It flings itself along the runway to a speed of well above 100 miles an hour within seconds, then leaps into the air.

A two-million-dollar 30,000-pound monster of metal, fuel, electronic brains and possibly atomic weapons, it raises its tapered nose and climbs skyward at an angle of almost 45 degrees.

The all-weather interceptor readily exceeds twice the speed of sound and operates effectively at altitudes over 50,000 feet.

The controlled fury of its Pratt and Whitney J75 jet engine puts it among the world's fastest and deadliest aircraft.

American Jet Liner Makes Paris Flight

Boeing Craft Takes 111 On Pioneer Trip

One Family Enjoys Free Ride, Mother Winner In Contest

By GEORGE SIBERA
United Press International PARIS (UPI) — Pan American World Airways pioneered daily transatlantic jetliner service today with a big Boeing 707 carrying 111 passengers, among them actress Greer Garson.

The inaugural flight landed here at 10:01 a.m., 8 hours and 41 minutes after leaving New York—and an hour and 41 minutes behind schedule because head winds made it necessary to stop over at Gander, Nfld., en route.

Plans to fly the jetliner on to Rome were cancelled when Italy, in a move to protect its nationalized Alitalia Airline, demanded that Pan American charge extra fares for jet flights.

The airline rejected the demand, and set prices for the first jet flight at the same level as its fares for propeller driven planes —$505 for a de luxe (first class) ticket and $272 for economy (third) class.

Family Travels Free
Most of the passengers were seasoned air travelers, but at least five of them had never been in a plane before. They were Mr. and Mrs. Noble Hopkins, of Garrettsville, Ohio, and their children, Louise, 16, Linda, 13, and Loren, 7.

The Hopkins family traveled free. Mrs. Hopkins won the trip for them as a prize in a contest sponsored by the airline and a cereal company.

Pan American is the first airline to offer daily jet service between New York and Europe. The nationalized British Overseas Airways Corp. started weekly jet service earlier this month, but had to suspend it after one flight each way because of a strike.

BOAC hopes to start daily service between New York and London with British-made Comet IV jetliners Nov. 14.

Fare Controversy Rages
The controversy over jet fares, which deadlocked a month-long meeting of the International Air Transport Association at Cannes, is the latest of a number of problems which have plagued commercial jet flight.

The fare dispute arrayed Pan American and BOAC against "have-not" airlines at Alitalia, Spain's Iberia and Germany's Lufthansa. These lines, operating only propeller-driven planes, want compulsory extra fares imposed on the jetliners to protect their business.

Other lines which do not have jetliners now but expect soon to get them, like Air France and the Scandinavian Airlines System, have not taken sides.

U. S. Income Boost Shown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incomplete figures for the year's third quarter indicate that the national income has regained much of the ground it lost during the recession.

The Commerce Department reported this Sunday as it announced a $1,800,000,000 gain for the second quarter and said third-quarter figures will show a more substantial increase.

The July-September figures are incomplete because corporate profits for that period have not yet been tabulated. Profits are known to have improved significantly, however.

Cliburn Plays, Draws Hundreds

SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The teen-agers began showing up as early as 9 a.m. By afternoon, when the music started, seven extra policemen had been called to handle the crowd of some 1,800.

Only 1,350 were admitted to the high school auditorium. The others stood outside in the rain and listened.

The performer who packed 'em in wasn't Elvis Presley. Nor Pat Boone. It was Van Cliburn.

Mass For Cardinal Mooney Celebrated At N. Y. Airport

NEW YORK (UPI)—The body of Edward Cardinal Mooney arrived here today by plane from Rome and was taken immediately to a chapel at Idlewild airport for a Requiem Mass.

The body was to be returned later today to his Detroit archdiocese for funeral services.

Mooney, 76, died of a heart attack in the North American College at Rome on Saturday, 70 minutes before the College of Cardinals went into secret conclave in the Vatican to elect a new pope.

His body, in a wood casket with a bronze cross on its lid, arrived here aboard a Pan American World Airways passenger plane from Rome at 6:40 a.m.

Accompanying it were Mooney's secretary, Msgr. Joseph M. Breitenbeck, who found him dying when he went to awaken him from a nap, and Father Arthur M. Karey, assistant chancellor of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

"His death was a great shock to me," Breitenbeck said. "He appeared somewhat tired when he left New York by boat because of the rush in traveling from Detroit to make a connection with the boat. But on the boat he seemed to be in excellent health and he didn't miss a meal."

Black Puffs Show Votes Not Success

Sunday Confusion Not Repeated With Use Of Chemistry

BULLETIN
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Four successive puffs of black smoke indicated tonight the cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church failed through the second day of their conclave to elect a new pope.

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church failed today on their sixth ballot to elect a new pope.

The cardinals went through their two morning ballots in an unusually short time.

This time there was practically no confusion about the smoke arising from the slender chimney over the Sistine Chapel as the two sets of ballots were burned. The tiny wisps of smoke soon took on a distinctly black hue and continued black, the sign that no pontiff had been chosen to succeed Pius XII.

Something Went Wrong
While smoke from the chimney is supposed to indicate a new pope has been named. The addition of straw is supposed to turn the smoke black, indicating no result. Sunday something went wrong and white smoke came out twice, setting off premature and groundless rejoicing.

Today the cardinals resorted to more modern chemistry so there would be no misunderstanding. An aide said that Prince Sigismondo Chigi, marshal of the conclave, had experimented with a tar by-product, then passed it in to the cardinals through one of the closely guarded doors which are the only access to the conclave area.

It was added to the fire to make the smoke unmistakably black.

The secret, walled-in conclave was about 40 hours old when the new failure was indicated by the smoke. The 51 princes of the church were to go back into session late this afternoon to try again with two more ballots if that proved necessary.

The 51 cardinals voted twice Sunday morning and twice in the afternoon but failed to give any prelate the 35 votes required for election—two thirds of those voting plus one.

No word on which candidates were running in front came from inside the walled-in, double-locked conclave area in which the princes of the church have been confined since Saturday night.

The end of each pair of ballots was accompanied by wild confusion over the smoke signs.

After every two votes, the ballots are burned in a stove inside the chapel. If a pope has been elected, the papers are burned alone and white smoke is supposed to spiral from the chimney. If there has been no election, a handful of damp straw is added and black smoke is supposed to come out.

Something went wrong Sunday. After the morning ballots, a cloud of white smoke shot up just before noon, and many in the crowd of about 60,000 in the square sent up shouts of joy. In a moment the smoke turned to gray and finally black.

Warren Refuses Casino Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Warren today refused to issue a stay which would have given Potomac River gambling casinos a short new lease on life.

Attorneys for the casinos had requested a stay of a mandate issued by the Maryland Court of Appeals after the state court upheld validity of a new anti-gambling law.

The chief justice denied the stay without making any comment.

Leaking Gas Gets Blamed In Big Blast

OTTAWA (UPI) — Natural gas appeared today to have been the force behind Saturday's early morning explosion that gouged a gaping hole in the capital's downtown business section.

A formal investigation was expected to begin today into the cause of the thunderous explosion which hit half-wakened Ottawa with earthquake force at 8:20 a.m.

Work crews spent most of Saturday and Sunday clearing away the debris and repairing the broken gas and water mains in the four-block area surrounding the center of the blast.

Destroyed were three stores and an automobile showroom, seemingly the center of the blast. The interior of the nine-story Federal Jackson Building across the street was a shambles, and many stores lost plate glass windows.

The blast was felt as far as 10 miles away. There were no fatalities, although 32 persons were treated at local hospitals for a variety of injuries. Had the blast occurred on a week-day morning or even an hour later when the stores were open, the result might have been a wholesale slaughter.

Black Puffs

This time white smoke rolled out the chimney for fully five minutes.

"A pope is elected," declared the Vatican radio. News agencies sent the word around the world. The crowd cheered and waved handkerchiefs.

Even Vatican officials were fooled.

The Palatine Guard was called from its barracks to proceed to St. Peter's Basilica for the formal announcement of the new pontiff's name.

Then uncertainty set in. The guards were sent back to their barracks. When 20 minutes had passed without a new pope appearing on the balcony, the doubt spread rapidly. Finally the crowd began to disperse.

There was confusion in the palace until assurances finally were received from within the conclave that black smoke was intended.

There was no official explanation of the mixup.

Reuther's Political Role Hit By Labor Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell Sunday described Walter Reuther as a pretty good labor leader but said Reuther does a disservice to his union members by being so politically active. Reuther is president of the United Automobile Workers.

"I think he—Reuther—makes a mistake in mixing his position as a labor leader with his function as a political figure," Mitchell said during an ABC-TV interview — "Open Hearing."

"It seems to me," Mitchell added, "he could more readily represent his people if he were to confine his political activities to issues regardless of political labels. But unfortunately, Walter is too tied up with the Democratic party to render the best service to his people."

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has been more neutral than Reuther, Mitchell said. Meany realizes, Mitchell said, that in his position he represents in bargaining "people of all shades of political opinion."

Mitchell, who called the Republican party a better friend to labor than the Democrats, predicted the outlook for the Nov. 4 election "is much closer than anyone would have thought a month ago."

Time Change Long Weekend Ends In Most Eastern States

By United Press International

Much of the eastern United States ended its annual time change "long weekend" today.

It was longer by one hour, as communities in 17 states, the District of Columbia and eastern Canada turned their clocks back one hour Sunday to commemorate the end of Daylight Savings Time, 1958.

The loss of that extra evening hour of sunshine came as a blow to die-hard golfers, but most persons took it in stride by grabbing an extra hour of sleep Sunday morning.

The change was not without its confusions. In northeast Indiana near Chicago, residents dutifully set their clocks back to conform to Central Standard Time. But a number of cities in the eastern half of the Hoosier state voted to join the eastern time belt, thereby electing to stay on Central Daylight Time throughout the winter months.

Other areas switching to Standard Time were New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, New Hampshire, Delaware, Connecticut, Vermont, New Jersey, Maryland, parts of Ohio including Cleveland and Youngstown, Washington, D.C., a few communities in Virginia, the Missouri area around St. Louis, parts of northern Kentucky including Louisville and

Extra Seat In House Due For Maryland

1960 Census Will Determine Allotment In Various States

By FRANK E. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maryland may gain a congressional seat after the 1960 census. But a Census Bureau official said it could be a loss up.

Estimates of 1960 population figures place Maryland among five states which would gain a single seat. That would give Maryland eight instead of seven members in the House of Representatives.

The official emphasized that there are uncertainties connected with projecting the figures to 1960. A relatively small shift in numbers, he said, could make the difference between a state gaining, losing or keeping the same number.

"Maryland is very close to the dividing line," the official said. "It could be a toss up whether the state gains another seat or not."

The bureau says other single seat gainers may be Arizona, Indiana, Ohio and Oregon. Alaska, as a state, would be allotted one representative.

Among neighboring states, Virginia is listed among states which probably will keep the same number; Pennsylvania is a probable loser of three seats; West Virginia probably will lose one, and Delaware would keep its one seat.

California is expected to be the biggest gainer and may pick up seven more seats. Florida may add three, Michigan and Texas, two each.

The bureau estimates Maryland's population will grow from the 1950 figure of 2,343,000 to a figure varying from 3,044,000 to 3,140,000. These varying figures are based on different combinations of assumptions, such as rate of births, deaths and net migration.

By 1970, the bureau estimates Maryland's population may be between 3,616,000 and 3,970,000.

Two Florida Men Arrested After Holdup

Identified As Work Gang Fugitives After Somerset Robbery

SALISBURY (AP)—Two men identified as fugitives from a Florida work gang are being held on charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to kill in connection with a holdup at nearby Cokesbury.

Richard Byrd, 30, and Johnny Hosendover, 36, both Negroes, were arrested yesterday. They were held at Somerset County Jail at Princess Anne.

State Police said 64-year-old John Bloxom of Pocomoke City, clerk at Taylor's Store at Cokesbury, was robbed of $100 and slugged on the head with a bottle of bleach Saturday night. The bleach splattered into Bloxom's eyes and he was reported in critical condition in Salisbury's Peninsula General Hospital.

State Police quoted Florida authorities as saying Byrd and Hosendover escaped from a prison work gang near Gainesville, Fla., last week.

Byrd and Hosendover with Henry Johnson, 21, and Quillie Millhouse, 35, fled from the Florida training center near Gainesville in a car owned by a workman.

At Hazue, 10 miles north of Gainesville, they stabbed Leslie Beville, 43, with a screwdriver and tied up Beville's wife and two children.

After taking several guns and $50 in cash, the four fled in Beville's automobile.

Beville, taken to a Gainesville hospital, was reported in improved condition yesterday.

Byrd was serving four years for breaking and entering; Hosendover, two years for a similar offense; Johnson, 10 years for armed robbery; and Millhouse, 15 years for armed robbery.

Young Doctor Drowns In Lake

MENTOR, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Richard T. Pillsbury of Salisbury, Md., a 26-year-old resident physician at Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital, drowned last night when a 19-foot sailboat capsized a mile out in Lake Erie.

Three other persons, all from the Cleveland area, clung to the craft for more than five hours before three-foot waves washed them ashore. Two 23-year-old women, Cynthia Sterlin and Nancy Bryan, were treated for shock and exposure. The boat's owner, Jerome Isear, 33, was unhurt.

Steel Production Predicted To Show Increase

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—still more in 1959 as foreign producers cash in on low costs. Mills will produce more steel this week than they did in the comparable week a year ago, Steel magazine predicted today.

The weekly trade magazine said that steelmaking operations will continue to increase for at least the next few weeks as automakers build up inventories to take care of needs caused by double shift operations and overtime work. More orders are expected as automotive output increases.

Steelmaking operations, which last week went to 75 per cent of capacity, a new high for the year, were expected to reach a peak of 85 per cent during the fourth quarter. The one point advance last week produced about 2,024,000 net tons of steel. During the corresponding week last year, output was 2,052,000 tons.

Consumers were starting to look ahead as mills extend delivery promises. Cold-rolled steel buyers were giving supplies 45 days notice of requirements instead of 30. They know that steel is going to get tighter as automakers, appliance manufacturers and other users come into the market for larger tonnages.

The metal working weekly noted that steel imports are rising. Its estimate for imports this year was 1,235,000 net tons, compared to 1,153,702 tons in 1957. The outlook is for shipments to be up wire fence were shipped in last year. A broader range of products is being imported into a wider section of the country. More than half of the supply of barbed wire in the U. S. came from abroad last year. And nearly one quarter of the supply of nails and staples and 13 per cent of the woven wire were shipped in last year. Tonnage wise, the important imports in 1957 were reinforcing bars (340,000 tons); pipe and tubing (150,000); round and flat wire (140,000); and structural shapes (80,000). Steel magazine's composite on scrap held unchanged last week at $42.33 a gross ton for the third straight week. Dealers are banking on higher steel operations to stimulate buying soon. The South Texas county of Kenedy does not have a single incorporated town in it. The county seat is Sarita, a ranch settlement.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — He is 64 years old and the last time I saw him was in Istanbul, where he seemed to have a few minor but good things going for him of a nature I did not think it wise to inquire into, having been brought up strictly and early in the knowledge that you do not say "How's tricks?" to fellows operating inside the fringes of the racket.

When we first knew each other it was the mid-20's, the so-called Roaring Twenties, and he was much younger and a gunslinger. Part of his hired gun job was to escort heavy winners in the peripatetic dice games home safely. For this, having deposited the winner at the winner's door without lead in him, he received $125 a week plus maybe $50 or $100 as a tip from the winner.

It wasn't a bad job for a lad touching 30 years old. Three such escorts in a week, plus take-home pay from The Boys, kept a young fellow in fancy shirts and polished shoes.

DON'T EVER think these youngsters that time had it rough. They lived beautifully and learned, as they went along, to get a few things going for them on their own.

A handy youngster could put a few touches together to add up to maybe $500 a week and in 1925 and 1926 and on up through the Depression, that kind of pocket money was useful.

It meant a nice apartment, an assortment of clothes, a shining car always spotless and a good table in a night club. It also represented the more handsome type of showgirl.

WE RAN INTO each other in a restaurant late the other night. He was all by himself, as spruce as fresh paint on a cottage door, shaved, barbered, sleek. But there was a note of bewilderment in his eyes. A faint note, but there. We waved, and he pointed to a seat beside him. I sat down.

"In for a visit?" I said. "I packed Istanbul in," he said. "They do not run to cooperation with my kind there. I think it's that big bazaar on the hill. The silver, gold and jewel merchants have a thing of their own going and the locals keep it that way. Istanbuls for the Istanbuls. I could always make a day's pay, all right, but I was running into that thing — you know — a guy is awfully polite but he looks down his nose at you."

"Condescension?"

"THE WORD. That's it. When you are in another man's town and you begin to get the condescension bit, look up timetables out. So I put my keister on a plane and here I am. What is the name of this town now?"

"Same. New York."

"You asleep? It quit being the New York I know long ago and now it's Spartanburg or Keokuk or like that. I took a walk down the Stern at 1 a. m. last night, between 57th and 45th. Nobody. No clubs, no action, a few listless cabbies. Mason City on a Sunday night at ten. What is with the action?"

"I THINK it's a little different. It's legitimate and new people. The boys are in the garment business, the hotel business, the paint business, the construction business, some are going for the organized union executive edge, that kind of action. No open heists, no dice of your kind. Nothing. We have a lot of Latin-Americans in town and things are in a state of change. Congress is keeping an eye on things, too, and the saloons are all licensed and clean. You won't like it."

"I don't have to like it. I have a little geetus put away, not much, maybe 20 Big Ones, but all cash. At my age, I can coast on that. What's with you? The Page One dodge still? It's a pleasant action. I hear you went to Mexico."

"Twice. The greatest. Just the greatest."

"I HEAR I can find action there. They say you got to know the people the right way right away, though. Right?"

"Right. They play for fun and kicks the way you played for keeps. Big action, lots of loot moving, but among friends. Pastime. No cold eyes."

"Since we've run into each other, maybe you could give me a name or so in Mexico City. You know, just a foot in the door name."

"I don't think I could."

"Well, I may rake it over, myself. I just thought maybe, you being there and all . . ."

It's Just Good Clean Fun

WASHINGTON — The subject today is politics; you can't get anybody here to talk about anything else. Most of this talking is straight through the Homburg.

With my own ears I heard Meade C. Alcorn, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, say the Republicans will elect a lot of new fellows to Congress on November 4. These same ears heard Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, say his fellows would gain a couple or three dozen seats in the House.

One of these gents is cockeyed.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower came back from his coast-to-coast speechifying to announce that nowhere did he find the Republicans feeling glum. Some Democrats here said Mr. Eisenhower didn't look in the right places.

I must report that I talked to a couple of Republicans straight from California and they didn't sound exactly happy.

They said they feared their boy, William F. Knowland, had no chance of getting elected Governor. So just before I went to bed last night I switched on the radio and there was Knowland, sounding exactly as he used to in the Senate, predicting that he had it made. He said he calculated that a majority of at least 125,000 Californians would give him the job.

ALL THIS is what you might call confusing to an innocent like me, but it's just the beginning.

Up in New York State the multimillionaire Republican, Nelson Rockefeller, seems to be making a strong race for Governor.

for local candidates to make their last pitch.

The idea is that candidates this year don't seem to be riding coattails as hard as they used to.

Also, national TV and radio shows on election eve cover a lot of areas where there are no gubernatorial or senatorial races. And they cost money which the GOP doesn't have this year.

nor against that other multimillionaire, Averell Harriman. They've both developed a taste for cheese blintzes.

So a gent who must have been a Republican asked Democrat Butler what he thought about the shoo-in of Rockefeller. Butler was indignant.

"There's not a chance of this multimillionaire, Rockefeller, beating our small business man, Harriman," he said. He went on to explain that Rockefeller had maybe $200,000,000 in his wallet, whereas his own man Harriman, had only $100,000,000.

MY FEELING is that we can expect either of those candidates to be strictly honest; they won't be tempted even by coats of vicuna trimmed in royal pastel mink.

Harry Truman is stumping the country, denouncing those varnishes of the opposition. All over the land the Republicans are denouncing little of Harry, who isn't running for anything.

President Eisenhower is taking a breather between oratorical expeditions, while his speech writers think up new things to call Democrats. The latter already are unhappy about like labeling "em radicals. I know some Democrats — and Republicans, too — who've been called worse.

ADLAI Stevenson, who is touted by some as the third-time Democratic nominee for President, claims that Vice-President Richard Nixon, who has hopes, himself, of getting the top spot, is an intolerable demagogue.

Nixon hasn't gotten around yet to calling Stevenson names; he's been too busy concocting complimentary things to say about Democrats running for Congress.

All this is fun, I guess, and it takes a voter's mind off his hangnails, but evaluating the oratory isn't easy. My own bride possibly has as good a system as any; she judges a candidate on how widely spaced are his eyes. The closer his peepers are together, the less use she has for him.

Reporter's Notebook

By JAMES MARLOW

For Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON—There's a little something for everybody in what happened on Formosa between Chiang Kai-shek and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Red Chinese can claim a psychological victory, Dulles can claim to have soothed world fears, and Chiang can claim renewed American support.

But in this writer's view, Chiang came out a real loser and the United States moved closer to recognizing two Chinas.

Chiang has talked of recapturing all China ever since the Communists drove him to Formosa from the mainland in 1949. It's been empty talk, so much so that Chiang needed U. S. help even to defend what he already held.

THE EISENHOWER administration backed Chiang's continued occupation of Quemoy and his defense of it.

Many worried Americans and American allies, fearing United States involvement and then perhaps world war, questioned the administration's wisdom.

They raised this question: Is Quemoy, right in Red China's back yard and so far from Formosa, really necessary to the latter's defense?

Dulles on Sept. 30 indicated a shift in policy. He offered to try to trim Chiang's military forces on Quemoy if the Reds quit shelling it; said Chiang was foolish to put so many of his troops there; and gave a terrible setback to any hopes the Nationalists had of returning to the mainland.

He said: "I don't think that just by their own steam they are going to get there." This shook Chiang. He implied his forces would not attack China except in self-defense. Yet, this was not a full renunciation of force.

But as a result of his agitation Dulles went to Formosa to talk to him. After their conference a communique was issued. In it Chiang publicly ruled out force as the main means of returning to the mainland.

THE COMMUNIQUE, to put it another way, can be interpreted as saying Chiang is reconciled to abandoning all hope of returning to China unless a miracle happens.

This can hardly boost the morale of his Nationalists on China. If they, get dispirited, he may be in for trouble.

The Red Chinese can claim this as a psychological victory, because Dulles wouldn't have gone to Formosa and the communique wouldn't have been issued if the Communists hadn't created a crisis and raised world fears by shelling Quemoy.

At the same time it was reliably reported on Formosa that Dulles had persuaded Chiang to reduce his Quemoy forces if the Reds quit shooting.

Dulles can claim that this and his statement that this country is not going to attack or tolerate attacks against the Chinese Communists — reassure Americans and American allies against fear of war over Quemoy.

NEW YORK—It has been a dog's age, as the canine geriatricians would put it, since I was a teenager. But I still remember, with a dull pain in the neck, what a trial it was.

The object of the teen-ager is to slip one over on nature in general and parents in particular by getting to be 20 without going crazy.

Nature and parents are stacked against you—the one prodding you to kick up your heels, the other commanding you to watch your step.

Dentists give you braces, spring gives you yearnings, teachers give you problems, books give you dreams, newspapers give you disillusion, moonlight gives you ideas, mother gives you rules, friends give you complexes, neighbors give you the fishy eye, and just about everything—when you add up the variant emotional factors—gives you the willies.

TEEN-AGE IS THE time when girls get suddenly fat, and boys get suddenly sluttish; the time—perhaps the last—when kids think for themselves; pimples for no medical reason, and a girl with big feet becomes shy for life.

It is a schizophrenic period when tomboys overnight become ladies in red, and when young men who cannot get into Yale become Ivy League cynics and ever afterward wear plaid sport coats.

It is such a swift, confusing, troubling period of life that a great part of the population purposely blots it from mind.

The pain, frustration, heartbreak, fear, embarrassment, ban on nail polish, second-hand suit, ticket for speeding, the thrashing, the first kiss that got a laugh, the awful years when she was tall and he was short, the "D" in chemistry, passion, the guilt—why recall them?

This is why, in easier, more placid times, parents mostly forget. And when parents forget, their teen-agers must go through the whole worrisome tradition without help and understanding.

There's never enough understanding for a teen-ager. His parents don't quite understand. His friends don't quite understand, and, least of all, does he.

This is the way with John, a senior at a Westchester County High School near New York City. He gathered together a council of 46 teen-agers from his school and others nearby, and they drew up a "Code of Social Behavior" for themselves — and their parents.

IT WAS DESIGNED, said John, to "eliminate confusion among teenagers caused by the widely varied standards set by different parents."

Included in the code were these rules: At least one adult must be present when teen-agers entertain; parents should always know where their children are, and children should know where their parents can be reached; a "reasonable" time for getting home should be arranged in advance with parents; a girl should respect her escort's time limit on using the family car, and his athletic training schedule.

Except for a few lapses involving legitimately flat tires, the punctuality promises were fulfilled, and the old folks, as ordered, have kept in touch. It hasn't solved all the teens' problems—nothing on earth could do that — but it has brought trust between parents and kids.

And if you can't have all the important things like beauty, your own car, complete freedom, self-confidence or Elvis Presley—well, trust helps make it easier.

A Native Son Dies

WITH THE DEATH of Edward, Cardinal Mooney, Allegany County has lost one of its most illustrious native sons. Born at Mount Savage, 76 years ago, this eminent churchman was destined to gain worldwide fame in high diplomatic positions, first as apostolic delegate to India and then to Japan. His later elevation to the College of Cardinals was largely in recognition of his service in these countries.

ALTHOUGH, with his family, he left his native Mount Savage in early youth, he made pre-seminary studies at St. Charles College, now located at Catonsville, Md., and his theological studies at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. He was ordained for the Diocese of Cleveland and began his priestly career as an educator, being appointed to the teaching staff of St. Mary's Seminary in Cleveland. Later he became principal of the Cleveland Latin School, a diocesan institution which was greatly expanded during the time he was its head. After a pastorate of about ten years in Youngstown, Ohio, Father Mooney, as he was then known, was sent to Rome where he became spiritual director of the North American students residing during the years they are pursuing theological studies in the Roman Universities.

IT IS EVIDENT that his worth was soon recognized by the Holy See, for in 1926 he was made a titular archbishop and sent to India as apostolic delegate. This was in 1926 and four years later Archbishop Mooney was promoted to the position of apostolic delegate to Japan. He served in that country two years when he was recalled to the United States as bishop of Rochester, N. Y., with the personal title of archbishop. He was transferred to Detroit as archbishop somewhat later and in 1946 was created cardinal. There are few persons in Allegany County today who remember the Mooney family when they lived at Mount Savage, but this county has always been proud to claim Cardinal Mooney as a native. There are those here who have known him personally within more recent years and all speak in glowing terms of his simplicity, his kindness and his radiant personality. He will be keenly missed in those circles which knew him best.

IT IS PREDICTED that, as tension eases in the Formosa strait, it will grow again in the Middle East. If not, it won't because Lebanon and Iraq didn't try.

Emperor's Face

THERE IS something of a controversy in Japan, these days, about a proposal to put the emperor's likeness on coins. Some Japanese feel that it would not be fitting to have the emperor jingling in the pockets of the masses. A dip into history might convince them that, instead of demeaning the emperor, this would place him in ancient and select company. So far as is known, the oldest coins in the world bore the symbols, if not the likenesses, of kings. There were the lumps of silver that were used by the people of Lydia seven centuries before Christ. It was the Lydians who were ruled in the sixth century B. C. by King Croesus, whose name became a synonym for a man of boundless wealth. Some of the greatest men in history have been depicted on coins since the Lydians conceived the idea of coinage. The Emperor of Japan wouldn't lose a bit of face by having his likeness added to this select company.

A GIRL, WHO fails at figures in class may not care as long as her own figure gives her class.

Rockefeller At Odds With Ike, Nixon

NEW YORK—Nelson Rockefeller has now let it be known that he doesn't like either the old Nixon nor the new Eisenhower. It leaves him somewhat isolated with the old Eisenhower banner with the strange device, Modern Republicanism, but it was not a snap judgment on his part.

The Republican nominee for Governor knew when he landed in Buffalo for intensive campaigning upstate that he would be asked by reporters how he felt about the "hard" line promoted by Nixon and, in a sharp change of pace, adopted by the President. The political wisdom of his reply is being debated, but he showed courage and a power of decision in choosing to answer plainly.

HE REFUSED to endorse the President's description of Democrats as "political radicals." He disagreed with the President's statement that labor unions need to be "furnished." He said he would not have used that word and that only a small percentage of labor leaders were corrupt.

Rockefeller's disassociation of his campaign from the present Washington appeals to orthodox Republicanism takes on added significance because of its timing. Vice-President Richard M. Nixon was approaching New York to spend 24 hours firing up the GOP boilers, and the President will speak here next week. Both were put on notice that for his own campaign against Governor Averell Harriman, the New York candidate prefers the high road.

THE QUESTION of Rockefeller's political wisdom arises because the GOP organizations have shown marked enthusiasm for the Eisenhower-Nixon attacks. Party leaders, in fact, demanded them and all but made them the price of their zealous support in the home stretch of the campaign. The President as late as his recent press conference was resisting, but once on the hustings, has gone all the way.

Rockefeller, who for a time worked inside the Eisenhower White House, was at first disbelieving and then shocked, it was learned. He particularly disliked such personalities as the word "furnishing" represents.

His own associations with such New York labor leaders as David Dubinsky of the Garment Workers union and Jacob Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers are close. Both are, in fact, associated with the Rockefeller in the building of model housing.

THERE HAD been advance warning that upstate Republicans might resent his stand. So far there has been no overt sign that this is so. For consolation he has the judgment of the Wall Street Journal that the new Eisenhower is a far less effective campaigner than the old.

His Democratic rival is also having organization troubles. The county leaders have been meeting here with Harriman and warning him to talk less about Rockefeller and worry more about getting out his own vote.

THEY ARE confident of electing New York District Attorney Frank Hogan to the Senate over Representative Kenneth Keating because Hogan is so well known under the old Thomas E. Dewey patent of crime-buster. Hogan succeeded Dewey in the New York county post when Dewey went on to the Governorship and two White House tries. Though Hogan has been a consistent rather than a spectacular performer, the melody apparently lingers on.

In prospect here now is a great burst of activity. Some observers feel Rockefeller either will have it made or be clearly sliding down from a present crest that frankly many of his friends thought he would never achieve.

Cabinetees Avoid Campaign Work

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's complaint that some Eisenhower cabinet members aren't doing right by the Republican party in this campaign is well borne out by a look at the honorable secretaries' schedules.

Only three of these good men have come to the all-out aid of their party. They are secretaries Ezra Taft Benson of Agriculture, Fred A. Seaton of Interior and James P. Mitchell of Labor.

Two cabinet members seem to have run away from the campaign — on official business, of course.

Secretary of Treasury Robert B. Anderson, who was a Texas Democrat before he became an Eisenhower Republican, flew to the World Bank's annual meeting in New Delhi, India, in early October. He's returning by way of Ceylon, Hong Kong and Tokyo. He's due back in Washington Nov. 1. He voted by absentee ballot. He has made no political speeches.

THE OTHER politically long-tongued member of the cabinet is Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. He left Washington Sept. 27 for a trip of inspection around the world, hitting Formosa, Tokyo, Bangkok, Karachi, Teheran and Athens. He's due back Nov. 5, day after election. They aren't likely to tap him for a political talk then.

This business of making cabinet members play politics harder isn't a new issue in the administration.

Former Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona, as White House aide in charge of relations with the states, tried to recruit the secretaries for campaign speeches right after Labor Day. He got turn-downs from Dulles, McElroy and Anderson on the grounds they wanted to keep their jobs above politics. This in spite of the fact that foreign, defense and fiscal policies have been hot campaign issues.

SECRETARY of State Dulles is making six speeches during the campaign. None is considered political. He'll wind up Oct. 23 before the Pilgrim Society in New York.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur Flemming joined the cabinet Sept. 1, and hasn't had time to get his feet wet politically. He has made a few speeches on education. But he'll speak at a Cleveland rally Oct. 29.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, GOP national chairman in 1952, has a good alibi for not being able to campaign as hard as he used to, following an illness and operation. He is making only four political appearances this year, ending at Rep. Charles Halleck's get-together in Rensselaer, Ind., Oct. 30.

Attorney General William P. Rogers will have made only seven political speeches when he closes the campaign Oct. 29 in Miller, S.D., and Oct. 30 at Minneapolis.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, 65 and seriously considering retirement from the cabinet, hasn't been able to hit the campaign warpath as hard as he used to. But he has scheduled 15 political speeches. He'll finish the campaign Oct. 28 in St. Louis, 29 in Charleston, Pa., 30 in Milwaukee and Nov. 1 in Worcester, Mass., his home state.

THE RECORD of the three star performers is Secretary Mitchell, 28 speeches; Secretary Seaton 34, and Secretary Benson 36. They have made two and sometimes three meetings a day. Mitchell's final appearances will be Oct. 27 in New York, 28 in Minneapolis, Seaton will hit Boston Oct. 27, Indiana, Pa., Oct. 30, and Milwaukee Oct. 31.

Benson has seven speaking dates in the last week of the campaign. Worland, Wyo., Oct. 27, Las Vegas and Reno Oct. 28, Ogden and Salt Lake Oct. 29, Pocatello and Idaho Falls Oct. 30. Clean living lets a man do that.

Other last-minute speeches may be scheduled for Nov. 1, 2 or 3. But the general feeling is that these days should be left

Fires, Road Mishaps Kill Eight In State

Girl, 2, Victim Of Blaze, Seven Others Perish In Accidents

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents and fires claimed at least eight lives in Maryland during the weekend.

A Norwalk, Conn., man, driving south with his bride for a honeymoon in Virginia, was killed in an auto collision yesterday 13 miles east of Chestertown.

Charles B. Brodick, 33, was dead on arrival at a hospital here. His 22-year-old wife, Barbara, was admitted with a broken right arm and cuts and bruises.

The two were married in Norwalk Saturday.

On the Baltimore Beltway, still under construction, a car crashed through a road barricade at the end of a paved section early Sunday, killing the driver and fatally injuring a passenger.

Baltimore County police said the driver was Vernon Cullum, 31, of Baltimore. The passenger, who died eight hours later in St. Agnes Hospital, was William Powell Jr., 25, of Baltimore County. The accident happened about 3 a.m. southwest of the city.

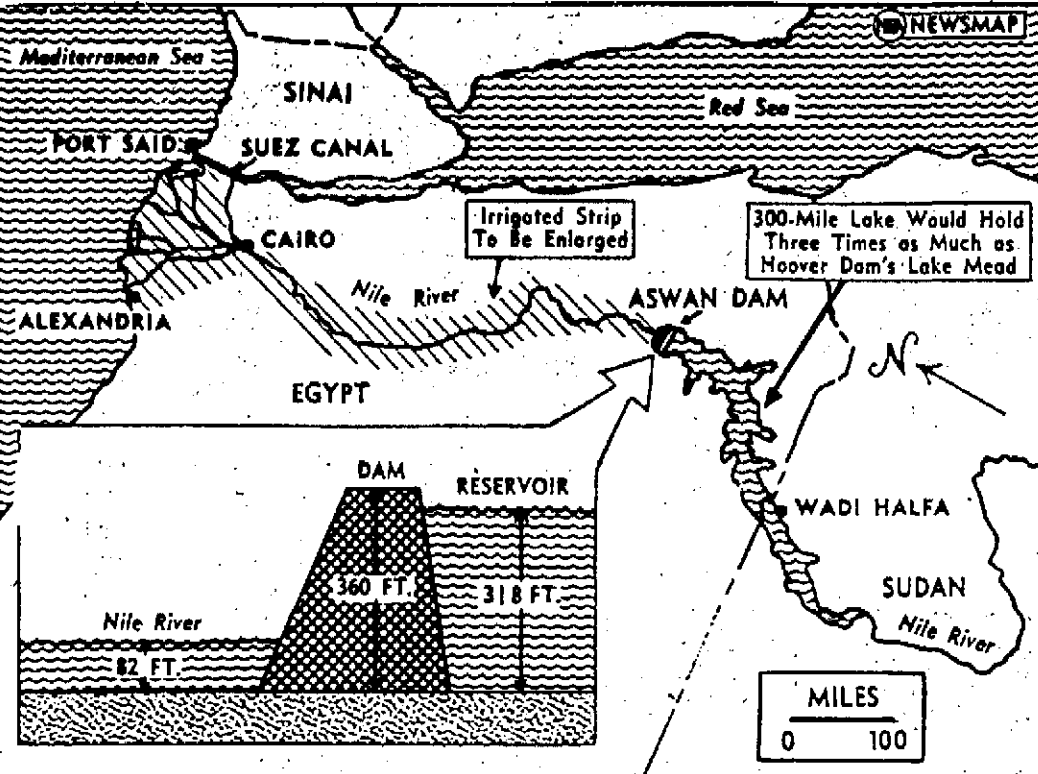

Two-year-old Floria Lyles, sleeping in an upstairs bedroom while her mother was away, died Saturday in a fire at Bowie. Prince Georges County police said the fire may have been set by a 3-year-old boy.

Other victims of the weekend included: Willie James Caple, 39, Negro, of Lexington Park, struck and killed Saturday night while standing in front of his parked car on a rural road two miles east of Great Mills, St. Marys County. He died of a broken neck, two broken legs and internal injuries.

George Hassitt Prouse, 60, of Queenstown, killed Saturday night in a truck collision at the intersection of Maryland 71 and county Rt. 456 near Queenstown, Queen Annes County.

Betty Gaye Kidwell, 17, of Rockville, killed Saturday afternoon when a car in which she was riding swerved to avoid a hole in the road and overturned near Rockville.

Dale Allen Hawkins, 3, of near Sykesville, killed Saturday when he tumbled from a car being driven by his great-grandfather.

RUSSIANS RENEW ASWAN OFFER—The Soviet Union has again offered Egypt financial assistance to begin construction of the mammoth Aswan High Dam, Premier Nasser's answer to his growing population. The Russian offer of 100 million dollars would be one-fifth to one-sixth the entire cost of the dam, which, when completed, would add two million acres to the country's present 60 million acres of arable land (see Newsmap). Withdrawal of U. S. and British offers of dam aid in 1956 led to Nasser's seizure and nationalization of the Suez Canal.

Increase In Poison Deaths Noted

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Doctors are urged to get on their toes about the "alarming rate" of increase in people getting poisoned—accidentally and unknowingly—in the present complicated modern world of chemicals-for-every-purpose.

The urger is Dr. Walter J. R. Camp, professor of toxicology (which is the science of poisons) at the University of Illinois and official toxicologist of that state. His alarm boils down to this: More and more complex chemicals are becoming as available to people as water, but people have not enough respect for chemicals. This is made worse by the effects of some chemicals inside the body. They don't poison suddenly and dramatically but slowly as they accumulate over long periods. The doctor not mindful of subtle poisonings could mistake the symptoms for something else.

He told doctors it was not wise to drop the thought of possible poisoning in a female patient with strange symptoms merely because she gave her occupation as "housewife." The modern home, he warned, "probably contains more poisonous substances than any other social area."

Cites Poisons
As another instance of the change from the past when poisons were relatively simple and acted unmistakably, he cited paints. Many paints now contain comparatively little lead but their solvents may be more poisonous than the lead was.

try have not the least idea what the materials are or of the dangers associated with them," he continued in a lecture to doctors in the technical journal, "Postgraduate Medicine."

He said "reputable" manufacturers protect their workers "but many small concerns do not have such safety control and some, through either ignorance or indifference, make no attempt to protect those exposed to noxious substances."

Doctors Should Be Alert

All this makes it important for doctors to be alert as to the possibilities of slow-acting, accumulative poisons causing strange body disorders. But the really important thing is to instill respect for chemicals in the public at large. That's a discouraging business, he granted; previous ef-

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Geographic Society announced today that its Hubbard Medal will be awarded to Sir Vivian Fuchs, the British explorer who led history's first overland crossing of Antarctica this year.

Kitty Carlisle Juggles Time Well

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Pretty Kitty Carlisle is one actress who has found the ideal solution to the problem of how to juggle her duties as wife, mother, homemaker and headliner.

"A half hour once a week on television keeps my professional pride in working order," says she, "and the rest of the time I can spend at home."

Kitty is married to playwright-producer-director Moss Hart and has two children, Chris, 10, and Cathy, 8. The Hart family lives in a swank duplex apartment in New York and spends weekends at a beach house in New Jersey. Says Kitty:

"When I married Moss I decided he was a full-time job. But an actress does like to keep her hand in. After our marriage I appeared in a Broadway play he directed, called 'Anniversary Waltz'—my last play.

"Having my husband directing me in a play seemed just like home. He told me what to do and I did it, just as I always do."

Kitty is one of the panel of the TV show, "To Tell the Truth," an arrangement which suits her perfectly, since it requires no rehearsal and depends on the native wit and general knowledge of the panel. Besides—

"When you're on television you reach millions of people all over the country, instead of only a few hundred in a theater. It's so efficient."

Life is entirely different when you become a television personality, says Kitty, and it has its own special set of problems.

"You have to be awfully careful not to offend anyone," she explains, "because instead of being a somewhat remote character behind the footlights of a theater, you move right into people's living rooms."

Bernard is a Teutonic name meaning "bold as a bear."

Annual Rally Day Program Draws Crowd

FROSTBURG — Trinity Assembly of God Church at Midlothian observed Sunday School Rally Day yesterday in connection with a revival which is being conducted at the church by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graban of Vineland, N. J.

The unique thing about yesterday's rally was that not only were all previous Sunday School attendance records surpassed, but there were more people present at the program than the aggregate population of Midlothian.

The village is populated by less than 400 people, and the Sunday School attendance yesterday was 409. Evangelist and Mrs. Graban said: "This is the most unusual Sunday School attendance that we have ever seen per capita of the community where a church group gathers."

The revival meetings were scheduled to conclude yesterday, but due to the excellent results of the meetings, the pastor, Rev. James L. Tate, announced that they would continue daily at 7:30 p. m. through next Sunday, except today.

Air Raid Test Said Success

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Capt. John W. Calhoun, commander of the Ground Observers Corps filter center here, said Sunday's four-state surprise alert was a "success."

But Calhoun also observed that "although the alert was effective, more observation posts could have been manned."

Some 130 GOC posts in West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio were manned Sunday by volunteer plane spotters when the alert was sounded. West Virginia Air National Guard planes of the 130th Air Resupply Group flew a pre-arranged course over the four states to test the effectiveness of the operation.

Garrett Sets Farm Course Instruction

ACCIDENT—Adult education in farm mechanics will again be offered at Northern High School this year, according to John Reckner, vocational agriculture teacher.

This course, designed to aid farmers in the care and repair of farm machinery, as well as the construction of machinery and equipment, consist of one three-hour session each week for 16 consecutive weeks, Reckner said.

The first meeting has been scheduled for Thursday at 7 p. m., and classes will be held each Thursday evening thereafter.

A feature of the farm mechanics course will be a five-week short course in arc welding. Any person residing in the school area who desires to participate in this phase of the school's adult education program and has not already registered for the course, should contact Reckner, or they may enroll by attending the first session of the class.

State Has First Hunting Fatality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Wendell M. Morton, 30, South Parkersburg, W. Va., suffered a fatal bullet wound in the head over the weekend, apparently becoming the Mountain State's first gun shot victim of the fall hunting season. He died at the Ohio State University Hospital.

Authorities said Morton was hunting in a remote section of Ritchie County, W. Va., Saturday when he was struck by a 22-caliber bullet fired by Virgil D. Yost, 22, Sistersville.

State Increases Chemical Output

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The production of chemicals in West Virginia has been a n e k e d 12th in a report published by "Chemical Week," an industry magazine.

The report, compiled from a 1956 survey by the U. S. Department of Commerce, placed the state behind the neighboring states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland.

The magazine also said that the survey shows that during the period 1945-56, West Virginia had the sixth biggest percentage increase in the value of its chemical products.

Rev. Andrew Mann Retires After 51 Years Of Service

PARSONS — Rev. Andrew B. Mann, pastor of the Thomas-Davis Presbyterian churches, announced his retirement from the ministry at a recent meeting in Hancock, Representative Elders Roy Carrico and Adam Arnold responded with laudatory speeches and a standing ovation was given Rev. Mann by his ministerial colleagues.

His retirement, which becomes effective January 1, follows 35 years of service in the Thomas-Davis area and nearly 51 years in the ministry. He is the oldest active member and second in point of service in the Winchester Presbytery.

He has received various high honors from the Presbytery. Three times he represented his church as commissioner to the General Assembly, and he also served as moderator of the Presbytery.

He is a member of the Presbytery examining board whose duty it is to examine seminary graduates about to enter the ministry. He is a member of the executive committee of Home Missions, the executive committee of women's work and the committee on evangelism.

Born in Scotland, one of the eleven children of James and Jean (Brown) Mann, the family was "Highlander." The tradition is that they are direct descendants of John Knox, the Scottish reformer, and that they took part in the work of the reformation.

Rev. Mann was educated in public schools in Scotland, and received his academic training in Bridgend Mining School Academy, an extension of the University of Edinburgh. As a student at Bridgend Academy, he twice won the fast walking championship of Scotland by covering three miles in 23 minutes and two miles in 15 minutes.

Miller Asks Amendment Vote Support

Change Sought In Method Of Naming State School Head

PAW PAW—Henry W. Miller, Jr., a member of the Morgan County Board of Education and the West Virginia State Commission of Education, has released a statement calling for support of an amendment to the state constitution which will be offered for consideration of voters on Election Day, November 4.

The amendment, Miller said, is designated as "State Superintendent of Free Schools," and is being offered on the recommendation of the State Commission of Education after that group termed the present method of selecting a state superintendent "one of the most serious weaknesses in the state school system."

Miller's statement, in part, follows:

"According to an ancient provision in the State Constitution, dating back to 1872, 'the state superintendent of free schools shall be elected by the voters every four years.'"

"Under the proposed amendment to the constitution, to be voted on at the polls November 4, the state superintendent of schools will be employed by the state board of education and serve at the will and pleasure of the board. I respectfully urge that every voter interested in improving the opportunities of our youth vote for this very important amendment."

"The following questions and answers are submitted in the hope they will help to show more clearly the great need for this change in the constitution of West Virginia."

"Question: Does the state superintendent of schools as now elected by the people have to be experienced and qualified to serve?"

"Answer: No. Most any citizen of the state with enough political power to be elected can become state superintendent of schools. Legally, a superintendent doesn't even have to know how to read or write."

"Question: Will the proposed amendment help to separate the school system from politics?"

"Answer: Definitely yes. A superintendent of schools employed by the state board of education would not have to worry continually about the next election and play politics to stay in office."

"Question: How do other states select superintendents?"

"Answer: States recognized as having the most modern and efficient school systems employ rather than elect superintendents, and these people who are in effect the general managers of the school systems in their respective states, must be well qualified."

"These are just some of many important reasons why it is respectfully suggested that good citizens, interested in a better school system for West Virginia, vote to the polls November 4 and vote for the 'State Superintendent of Free Schools Amendment.'"

Bitter Fight Exists Over RTW Issue

Ohio Election Campaign Centers About Work Law

By HASKELL SHORT
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — An increasingly bitter fight over the right to work issue (RTW) has put everything else on the sidelines in a rough and tumble Ohio election campaign.

The politicians, economic groups, church spokesmen, and major newspapers are split in their stand on the issue with both sides having important support.

Both camps have well-financed campaigns whose publicity staffs turn out an endless barrage of charges and counter-charges.

The issue has put the spotlight on the governor's race where Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill has made support of the proposal the No. 1 issue in his campaign against Michael V. DiSalle.

Newspaper pollsters are in the field as never before to check voter sentiment. They feel that Republican Sen. John W. Bricker will defeat Stephen Young, former four-term congressman-at-large.

Polls Show Trouble

The polls show that O'Neill is in trouble this year in his rematch with DiSalle. O'Neill beat DiSalle two years ago by 427,000 votes, the biggest margin ever scored by a candidate for governor in Ohio. This time the race is rated a toss-up. The pollsters also rate the right to work question a toss up.

The spirited campaigns at all levels pushed voter registration, required in 23 of the state's 88 counties, to a record high. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted 3,450,000 Ohioans would vote, a record for a non-presidential year.

At stake this year, in addition to right to work and the senatorial and gubernatorial contests are almost all state offices and 23 seats in the House of Representatives. Also more than half the state legislature and endless hot local bond and tax issues.

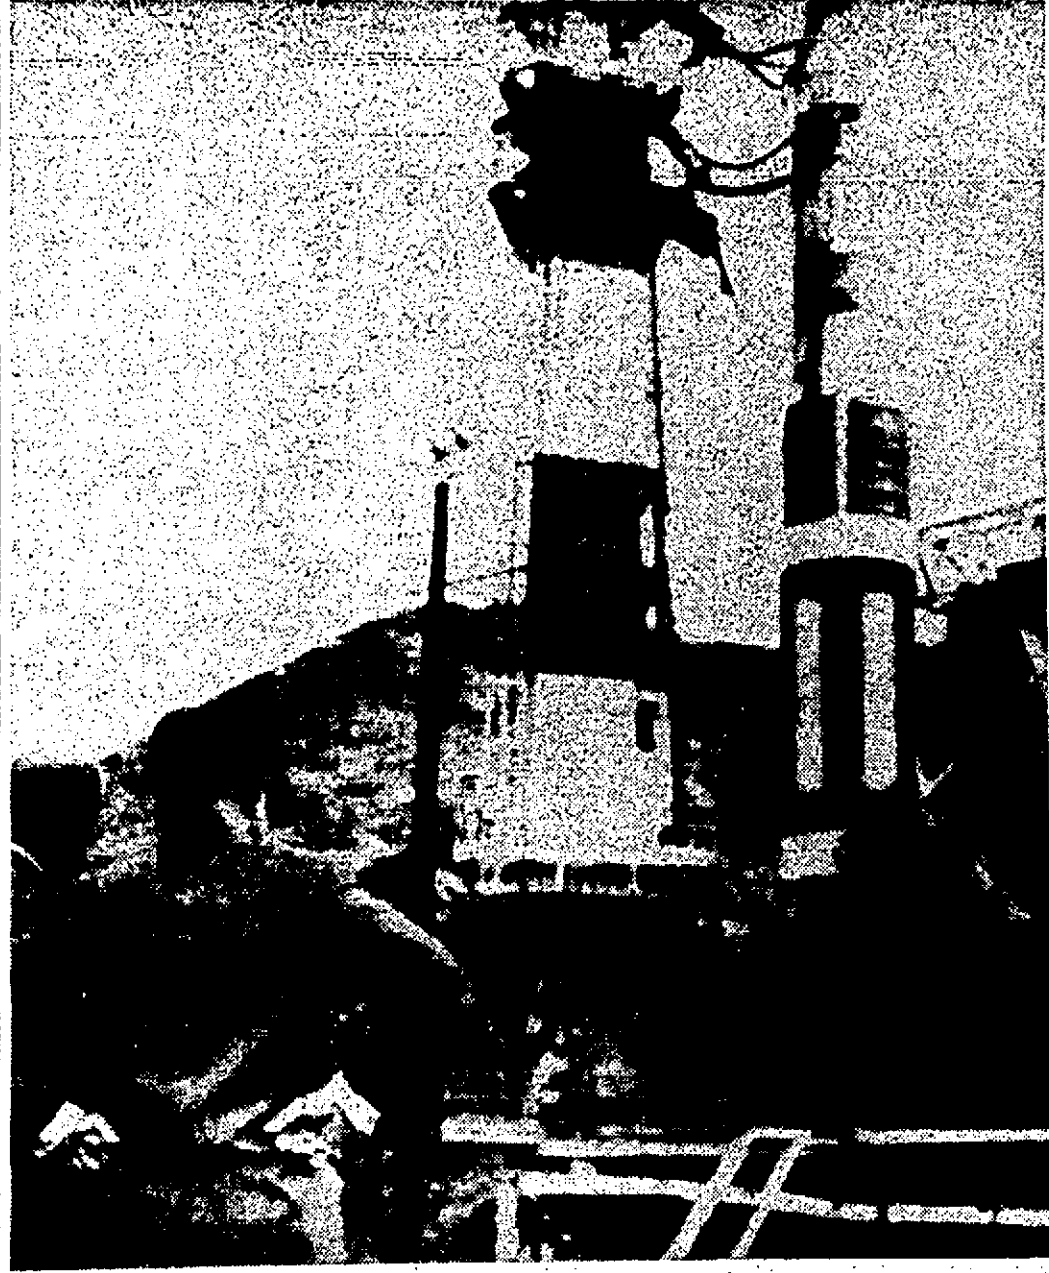

Ohio "Real Battle Ground"

Organized labor has tagged Ohio as the "real battleground" of 1958 because Ohio is the largest industrial state where the issue has gone to a vote. Union leaders, defeated in two major statewide campaigns within eight years, are putting more fight into their campaign against RTW than they did in their losing drive against Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1950.

Both parties wanted to postpone a vote on the question until next year but the business groups leading the fight for its approval went ahead with their plans. The issue is being submitted as an amendment to the state constitution. If adopted, it would outlaw the union shop.

Democrats put a plank in their state platform denouncing the proposal. Republicans, under heavy pressure from congressional candidates in industrial states, declared the issue non-partisan and left it to each candidate to take any stand he desired.

Two Officers Hurt During Theft Probe

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) — A State Police corporal and a deputy sheriff were injured late Saturday night, neither seriously, when brushed by a passing car on U.S. 13.

Deputy Jesse M. Pollitt, 33, son of the Wicomico County sheriff, suffered a bruised left thigh and minor cuts. He was treated at Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury, and released.

State Police Cpl. Robert D. Wier, 37, suffered minor bruises of the left hand. It happened three miles south of Greenhill, Somerset County, between here and Pocomoke City.

State Police at Salisbury said the two officers were frisking a suspect in an armed robbery case when the driver of a car failed to see them standing alongside the highway. No charges were placed against the driver, 17-year-old William James Alexander, a student at Pocomoke High School.

Teacher Held By Police On Two Charges

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police have charged a 53-year-old school teacher with drunk and disorderly conduct.

The teacher, Chester P. Carron, 53, of Glen Burnie, was arrested Saturday night shortly after he had telephoned Harold E. Roth Jr., another teacher whose life had been threatened by an unidentified letter writer.

Police assigned to safeguard Roth traced the call to the Jacobsville Elementary School where they found Carron. Carron was quoted as saying he called Roth only to offer his aid and sympathy.

Roth, a teacher at George Fox Junior High School, was shot at while supervising a teen-age dance at the school Oct. 18. He received a threatening letter signed by "The Sniper" last week.

There were 64,754,000 telephones in use in the United States as of June 30, 1958.

Heart Attack Fatal To Man Playing Golf

BALTIMORE (AP) — Walter Marmer, 59-year-old Cambridge businessman, died unexpectedly yesterday just after teeing off on the first hole at the Hillside golf course.

His playing companion said Marmer told him that he didn't feel well and wanted to sit down for a moment. As he started to sit, he suddenly keeled over. He was dead on arrival at Lutheran Hospital, apparently of a heart attack.

On his way to the golf course, he had dropped off his wife at Lutheran Hospital to see her mother. Mrs. Marmer did not hear of her husband being brought there until she was outside and someone advised her to go back to see a certain doctor about her husband.

Marmer had operated a men's apparel store and a shoe store on Race St. in Cambridge for about 30 years.

He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Rhona Seider, Easton, and a son, Melvin Marmer, Silver Spring.

Donora Smog Deaths Recalled

DONORA, Pa. (UPI) — Exactly 10 years ago, the week end brought a spectre of horror that darkened the sky and still haunts the memory of this Monongahela Valley milltown.

A lethal smog settled over the community of 12,300 persons, killing 22 and prostrating nearly 6,000 others.

The tragedy forced authorities across the country to realize that air pollution could be more than a mere nuisance—a menace to health. Donora became a focal point in the war against contaminated air.

Although still chafing under the ever-recurring "smog town" stigma, the community now breathes easily.

A final report of a three-month investigation of health conditions by the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public Health showed that Donora's atmosphere is not harmful. It cited an average mortality rate and spoke of no unusual causes of death or permanent injury to the health of smog victims.

Gases and fumes normally dispersed by air currents were trapped for six days by a freak "roof" of warm air pinned in place by an overlayer of cold air.

Stolen Sign Results In Youth's Death

VIENNA, Va. (UPI) — Bailey Raynor, 17, was killed by a sign he stole from a highway barricade, police said.

The youth loaded the 12-foot sign into his car Saturday night, leaving several feet of the post sticking out the rear window of the car. As he drove along the highway the protruding post struck a tree, swinging the other end of the sign against Raynor, down by an overlayer of cold air.

How much of himself does a father see in his son?

Anyone can see the ways in which a father and son look alike. But the father sees similarities that others miss. Reminders of his own boyhood, his own dreams as a youth.

In quiet moments, he thinks of the future. His son's future. And he feels especially good about certain sacrifices he is making. The money he is putting into life insurance, for instance.

There's a special comfort in knowing that his family is adequately protected, come what may. And it's reassuring that one policy is labeled "for my son's education."

A father is grateful for the chance to plan ahead. To make sure that his boy will have opportunities that he himself may have missed.

New Parking Rules, Higher Fines Slated

Ordinance Will Be Effective In City On November 15

Ordinances providing for new parking regulations and increased fines will go into effect here November 15 by unanimous action of the Mayor and Council today.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said abolishment of the courtesy meters at Police Headquarters and South End Fire Station plus the raising of fines are not designed to produce more revenue.

As a result of many meetings of the Mayor and Council, the ordinances were adopted so (1) parking would not unduly interfere with flow of traffic and it is felt if ordinances are strictly enforced, traffic flow will be benefited; and (2) a maximum number of parking spaces will be provided for the most number of people allowing a greater number to complete their business in the downtown area through use of one of the meters.

Two Lots On Way. Fleming also pointed out by the time of the effective date, the new Western Maryland Railway parking lot will be in operation and it is hoped a lot on the site of the old bus terminal will be open providing more offstreet parking than at any time in Cumberland's past. Fleming continued that the two new lots will give Cumberland approximately 1,000 parking spaces which should improve the traffic flow.

Effective November 15, a motorist receiving a tag for over-time meter parking will not be able to pay 25 cents at the "courtesy" meters in lieu of a $1 fine.

Regulations going into effect include:

Parking meters — Any violation will be subject upon conviction to a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $100 or in default, committed for one and not more than 30 days in City or County Jail. Continuous parking will also come under the regulation. That is, if a motorist is tagged on a half-hour meter, then is tagged again for the next half hour, each shall be considered as a separate offense and be subject to separate penalties.

Penalties Listed. Yellow lines — Fine of $2 and up to $100 or in default one day or not to exceed 30 days in jail for each offense. Continuous parking over a 15-minute period shall be considered a separate offense.

Red lines or no stopping areas — Fine of $5 and up to $100 or in default from one day to not more than 30 days in jail. Continuous parking over a 15 minute period shall be considered a separate offense.

Warrants — If a warrant is served for a parking violation, conviction will carry a fine of $10 or not more than $100; or in default the violator can be committed to jail for five days but not more than 30 days.

The city police magistrate upon any conviction, shall not have the power to suspend or reduce the fine provided for violations in the ordinance.

It is also provided that any other violations of provisions of the ordinance either express or implied will be liable to a fine of $5 and not more than $100 or in default, a jail term of one day or not to exceed 30 days.

Wounded Boy Said Better

Robert L. Park, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Park, Petersburg, was in "fair" condition today at noon in Grant County Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Saturday after being shot while squirrel hunting.

The Park boy was hunting near Rough Run in Grant County when Foster Hedrick Jr., also 13 of Petersburg when he stumbled against a .22 caliber rifle the Hedrick boy was carrying and the bullet struck him in the abdomen. The bullet emerged in the lower region of the boy's back. Surgery was performed on the youth.

The condition of Lewis C. Davis, 40, of Defiance, Pa., who was injured in a truck collision last Friday, was reported "fair" in Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

State Political Campaign Switches To Baltimore City

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The campaign of the counties is over. Both political parties have trained their prize guns on the heart of Baltimore City and will fight out the remainder of the political war in the metropolis.

It's a time-honored practice. Half the state's votes are located in the metropolitan area.

The only activity on the political front yesterday concerned socializing by the Democrats and boosting of a local favorite by Republican gubernatorial candidate James P. Devereux.

Thomas D'Alessandro, Senate candidate, led his harmony ticket to a tea given by Democratic women's clubs in Baltimore's

RECALLS TRIP HALF CENTURY AGO—As the Garden Club of Cumberland prepared to hike through the old C&O Canal tunnel near Paw Paw yesterday, retired Chief Judge George Henderson, second from right, recalled the last time he went through the tunnel. That was 53 years ago this past August when he took a trip down the canal in a canoe. Some of the group of 50

who took the hike shown with the mouth of the tunnel in the background, left to right are, Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, Ronald Gordon, E. M. ## City To Buy Year's Supply Of Gas, Oil

The city today asked for bids to supply its gasoline and oil for the motorized fleet for the period January 1, 1959 to December 31, 1959.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder was authorized to ask the bids in a move which previous announcement had said is expected to save the city several thousand dollars annually.

The move brought praise from Street Commissioner John J. Long who called it an "excellent idea" then suggested that the same type of purchasing be applied to other city needs. He mentioned light bulbs and allied needs and stationery.

In regards to stationery, Long said it should be standardized so that it could be purchased in bulk. He suggested that names of city officials be left off the stationery.

The city accepted three bids. One was from Feldstein Iron and Metal Works for exclusive salvage rights at the city's garbage dump on Oldtown Road. Feldstein bid $205 a month for the rights, which means an income of $2,460 a year. The salvage right is effective November 15 for a two year period.

Long said he was "happy to see the extra money coming into the department." He said it is good economy, good business and speaks well for the group.

The bid of Knight's Garage, Baltimore Pike, in the amount of $4,100 for a tractor with hydraulic backhoe and front end loader was accepted. The equipment is for the Water Department.

Also accepted was the bid of Orrie Sensabaugh, contractor, for the Knox Street improvement project. The bid was the lowest of two in the amount of $7,256.16. Long noted that this is a contract program and the city was more or less obligated to accept the bid. He said that Street Department employees had saved several thousand dollars by doing the work on the Woodside project. Then he lauded the good job being done by employees of his department which is being accomplished despite 20 less men than last year.

Water Use Up. Water consumption for the week ending yesterday was 83,360,000 gallons compared to 76,320,000 the same period a year ago, the Mayor and Council was told in a report by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company.

The water level at Lake Gordon is three feet below the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon, eight feet seven inches below.

Devereux, meanwhile, spoke in favor of Sam Culotta's proposed State legislation to give the Board of Motion Picture Censors power to rule out certain films to children under 17 years old.

He spoke at the Frank Culotta Republican Club, named in honor of Sam's uncle, Sam, a delegate from the Third District, is running for the State Senate.

D'Alessandro later attended a reception near Finksburg, Carroll County, given for him by James Bruce, whom D'Alessandro defeated in the primary election. Bruce issued a statement to "emphasize his unqualified support" of D'Alessandro.

The new firm, composed of former Cumberland Transit employees, recently purchased the local transit firm which had gone into receivership.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. plant here resumed production today after being idled nearly three weeks by a four-state strike of some 10,000 members of the United Glass and Ceramic Workers union.

Negotiations between the union and Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., which operates a plant in Clarksburg, are continuing and were switched from Cleveland to Louisville, Ky.

The strike against Libbey-Owens-Ford ended Saturday after union and management officials meeting in Cleveland agreed on a new two-year labor contract calling for, among other things, an eight-cent hourly boost now and an identical hike Oct. 23, 1959.

The walkout against the two glass companies started Oct. 8.

Miners Back At Work In Big Area Pit

Work resumed at midnight at the big Mountaineer Coal Company mine at Farmington, W. Va., and the Western Division of the Western Maryland Railway hopes to have coal moved from there this evening or tomorrow.

The mine plays a prominent part in Western Maryland traffic through here. It has been closed down since October 18 when 400 miners left their jobs apparently as a result of a seniority dispute.

John Mayo, this city, president of District 16, United Mine Workers, and Joseph Yablonski, Pittsburgh, president of District 5, are on a two-man international union commission which has been attempting to settle the dispute.

Mayo said he attended the meeting Saturday in Fairmont when the miners voted to return. He said negotiations are being continued on the original dispute involving seniority rights between members of several unions and a number of companies.

The Mountaineer walkout was over another, but linking, seniority right issue, he added.

Council Acts On City Jobs; Two Abolished

Four Employees Ask Continuance Under Ordinance

The Mayor and Council took action today on jobs affecting workers in three departments. Two jobs were abolished under the Water Department affecting two employees at the Lake Gordon water plant. Abolished were the jobs of watchman and general pipefitter. The order said the action was taken to reduce the force and did not reflect on the performance of duties by the two men affected. The order is effective November 1 and will affect Lester P. Miller and George R. Zembower.

Council approved on motion of Commissioner G. Ray Light, the application of C. L. Brotemarkle to continue in his present capacity at Lake Gordon for another year.

Must Apply Yearly

This action was taken under a recent ordinance passed by council which makes the mandatory retirement age 70 and allows a male employee 65 years or over to continued working until the mandatory date by making a year-to-year application.

Three Street Department employees also applied for a year's extension and were approved upon recommendation of Commissioner John J. Long. They are Joseph W. Ansel, extra warehouse watchman; John L. Hymes, carpenter; and Jesse W. Bell, warehouse watchman.

Council accepted with regret on motion of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming, the resignation of Ivy L. Hoymann as a school crossing guard. In her letter, she said it had been a pleasure to work for the city until this year when school holidays and sick leave were taken away from the guards. She said it "does not pay" to stand out in the winter weather when the guards must buy their own heavy clothing and boots at a cost of about $28.

Auditors Hired

In another action, council approved appointment of Mary Lou Arnone as temporary clerk in the Water Department until the Civil Service Commission provides a list of eligibles for the position. The second clerk post was created by council last week. The temporary appointment is effective November 1 and carries a salary of $212 a month.

William Torkington and John W. Rollins Jr., local certified public accountants, were authorized to make the annual examination of city financial records for the next two fiscal years at a fee of $1,000 for each year.

Hike Recalls Local Jurist's Boyhood Trip

One of the participants in the hike along the C&O Canal held yesterday by the Garden Club of Cumberland was former Chief Judge George Henderson, who recalled that the last time he had gone through the Paw Paw tunnel, was 53 years ago.

Judge Henderson said he and a companion, the late Alpheus Cochrane, a classmate of his at old Allegany County Academy, took a canoe trip from Cumberland to Washington during the summer vacation in August of 1905.

The trip, he explained, was completed, although part of the journey was made by canal boat when he and his companion "popped out."

The retired jurist is one of the leading advocates for the C&O Park bill and heads the Chamber of Commerce committee which is supporting the measure.

GOP League Gives Backing To Democrat

Gonder Endorsed For State Senator; Demos Plan Tour

The formation of a Republican organization which endorses the candidacy of a Democrat for state senator highlighted the political news in Garrett County over the weekend.

The organization, the Independent Republican League of Garrett County, is said to have a membership of about 100 persons and publicly endorses B. I. Gonder for state senator.

Incumbent Clifford Friend of Accident is seeking re-election on the GOP ticket.

John M. Jarboe, Oakland, secretary of the GOP League, said its members "feel that Garrett County is entitled to the highest type of representation, and in Gonder we have a person who will be fair and interested in all our citizens."

First Support. L. C. Hutson, Kitzmiller, chairman of the Garrett County Democratic State Central Committee, said the formation of the league marks the first time in the history of the county that Republicans have openly supported a Democrat. Coupled with a marked gain in Democratic registration, Hutson said the formation of the league indicates a definite reversal of the usual political pattern on Election Day.

He continued, "I have definite information that additional groups also have been formed by Republicans for the support of Democratic candidates for county offices."

Tour Scheduled. Hutson said Democratic candidates will make a tour of the county next Saturday, accompanied by members of the State Central Committee. The tour will be climaxed with a rally at 8 p. m. in the Community Building at Kitzmiller, at which the principal speaker will be W. Earle Cobey, Cumberland attorney and prominent Democratic leader of Allegany County.

The rally program will be presented by a concert by the Elk Garden (W. Va.) High School Band, Hutson explaining that additional entertainment will be furnished and refreshments served.

The itinerary for the tour, which will begin at 9 a. m., follows:

Finzel, Grantsville, Friendsville, Accident, McHenry, Oakland, Crellin, Red House, Gorman, Loch Lynn, Deer Park, Swanton, Bloomington and Kitzmiller.

Asks Tax Exemption. Fulton Myers Post 156, American Legion, asked for a tax exemption in a letter to the Mayor and Council today. The matter was referred to City Attorney William R. Carscaden and Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder.

Tomorrow night the various candidates will attend the labor rally at City Shrine Club on South Center Street. The event is being sponsored by the Committee on Political Education of the AFL-CIO.

On Thursday at 8 p. m. a meeting will be held at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street for campaign workers. Reilly will preside and he said campaign supplies will be distributed and final instructions for the poll workers given.

Meter Receipts Up. Parking meter receipts the week of October 19 were $777.52 compared to $735.45 the week of October 12, an increase of $42.07. Inspector Harry Whisner reported to the Mayor and Council today.

Garrett Has Sprinkle Of Snow Flakes

Light Rain And Drizzle Forecast Here During Night

A light sprinkle of snow flakes, first of the season, was reported today in the Oakland area and a mixture of snow and rain in the Slaty Fork area along the Western Railway was also recorded.

Earlier today the skies started to clear but soon after clouded up and the light sprinkle of snow followed.

Color Fades Fast

Weber said the autumn foliage on trees has been fading rapidly in the past few days with the wind and colder weather causing leaves to fall earlier than usual.

The Western Maryland Railway dispatcher here said it was raining at Deal with a temperature of 38 degrees. Elkins had 38 and cloudy skies while it was 43 degrees and raining in the Thomas area.

Showers Forecast

Cumberland had an overcast sky and temperature of 46 degrees at noon. Yesterday's high reading was 53 degrees and early today the low temperature was 35 degrees. A trace of rain was reported.

Halas Given Punch After Stirring Fans

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Papa Bear George Halas arouses animosity among West Coast pro football adherents on a week to week basis.

In the latest episode, an infuriated San Francisco 49er fan tossed a punch at him during halftime Sunday and landed in jail.

That made three straight Sundays that the 68-year-old owner and coach of the Chicago club has become an object of acrimony—first when the 49ers lost in Chicago, then when Los Angeles lost there and finally as the Bears won here.

Three weeks ago San Francisco Coach Frank Albert charged Halas as influenced the officiating as the 49ers lost 28-6. Then an assistant Ram coach declared someone was tapping his telephone conversation to the Los Angeles bench.

And there were general complaints that Halas strayed out of the coaching confines between the 40-yard lines.

With that background the crowd of 39,441 in Kezar Stadium flexed its vocal muscles with mighty boos as Halas and his Bears took the field.

The noise became crescendo in the second quarter with the Bears leading 10-7. Referee Ron Gibbs signaled that 49er Leo Nomellini recovered a fumble by Chicago's Willie Galimore at the San Francisco 24.

Howls Drown PA System
Backfield Judge George Smith overruled, saying he had blown his whistle ending the play before the fumble. After a huddle, watched closely by a gesturing Halas at the sideline, the officials awarded the ball to Chicago.

For six minutes the howls of anguish drowned out even the public address system. At the intermission, Albert, Halas and some players conferred with officials at midfield.

As the session broke up, some fans swarmed onto the field and one swung at Halas. Albert pulled the fan away and assistant Chicago coaches threw punches at the assailant before police booked him on a charge of battery. He was identified as 33-year-old William Dunn of Palo Alto, Calif.

Booting continued throughout the game, won by the Bears 27-14 as they stayed in second place of the NFL Western Conference.

In the dressing rooms, 49er President Vic Morabito and Albert apologized to Halas who replied: "You can't help that."

Next stop for the Bears and Mr. Halas—the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles for a game with the Rams on Sunday.

Knicks Retain Eastern Lead

By United Press International
The New York Knickerbockers and Minneapolis Lakers are staging an early reversal of form as they climb from last season's cellar to the top of their respective divisions in the National Basketball Association.

The Knicks maintained their Eastern lead Sunday by defeating the Philadelphia Warriors, in overtime, 100-94, while the Lakers assumed command of the Western sector with a 108-100 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

A lay-up basket by Willie Naulls with five seconds to play tied the score at 89-all in regulation time and sent the Knicks on to their second straight overtime win.

The Lakers nullified NBA scoring king George Yardley's 36-point performance with some balanced scoring of their own. Vern Mikkelsen led Minneapolis' five double figure scorers with 22. Larry Foust and Bob Leonard contributed 19 apiece, Elgin Baylor had 18 and Boo Ellis, 10.

LITTLE SPORT

West Virginia Defense Again Proves Worth

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Defense, a factor that almost enabled West Virginia to upset Pitt, again proved valuable against Virginia Tech at Richmond.

A last-second pass interception by sophomore quarterback Danny Williams was one of a series of fine defensive efforts turned in by the Mountaineers in the 10th annual Tobacco Festival engagement as they chalked up a 21-20 victory.

Williams hauled in a Billy Holsclaw pass deep in West Virginia territory on the final play of the game as the Mountaineers made it 28 in a row in the Southern Conference, the accurate toe of tackle Dick Guesman providing the deciding point.

WVU clashes with George Washington here Saturday as it goes after SC win No. 27. The prospects for a victory for the league leaders appear good.

However, GW surprised William & Mary 7-0 last Friday night and could prove a worthy foe. Only the week before, William & Mary upset North Carolina State 13-6.

Big Cogs in the G-W attack are quarterback Ed Hine, halfback Ted Colna and fullback Duane Whelstone. Top linemen are Don Herman, Bob Frulla and Ed Rutsch.

West Virginia's beefy line played a big part in the triumph over VPI. The Gobblers picked up only 97 yards rushing. Had it not been for the brilliant aerial display of Holsclaw the outcome could have been more lopsided.

Where Is He Now?

Culler Becomes Autograph Man

By United Press International
Dick Culler, who played every infield position except first base during an eight-year major league career, had his best years as a shortstop for the 1945-46 Boston Braves. Dick came up originally with the Phillies in 1936 but went back for more seasoning and didn't return until 1943 when the White Sox gave him a trial. Then he became a regular in 1945 and hit .262. He was slightly below that in '46 and later dropped to utility roles.

Whatever happened to Dick Culler? Now 43, Dick still is in baseball in an unusual capacity. Operating out of his native High Point, N.C., he furnishes many of those autographed baseballs sold at various parks.

greatest touchdown shows ever witnessed in the local stadium. The parade was led by Bill Koerner with a record-tying performance of six TDs.

Hahn also liked the running work of Tom Davis, Jim Hammond Leroy Henry and Robinson, and cited Fred Joyce, Bob Rowley and Bill Hahn, Jr. for their play on the line. Rowley, by the way, hurt his wrist in the third quarter and X-rays are being taken today to determine if there are any broken bones.

The Sentinels had two other casualties. Donnie Lewis, place-kicker and second-string back, hurt his ankle running the ball and end Gary Holtzman injured his knee. Robinson also hurt his hip but was able to get back into the game.

Just about everything happened in Saturday's game. Long runs seemed to be the order of the night, passes were flying with regularity and accuracy, one Westminster completion of which resulted in a fumble and a long gain for Fort Hill. There was also a blocked punt which resulted in a 37-yard touchdown for a guard (Fort Hill's Walter Reed) and consecutive kickoff runbacks for touchdowns by the opposing clubs.

"But the score," says Hahn doesn't indicate the strength of Westminster. "I don't think we're 37 points better," he concluded.

Maryland In Last Place In Atlantic Coast Loop

By The Associated Press

The five-year-old Atlantic Coast Conference respects no past records.

During the first three years of the league's existence, Duke won a football title, Maryland won one and they split the other.

In 1956, Maryland's fortunes waned, but Duke finished second that year and the next.

Today, Maryland is on the bottom of the standings with a 1-3 ACC record and Duke is nudging the Terps for the bottom with a 2-2 record.

In fact, there isn't a team in the conference without at least one loss to a league foe, indicating the conference power is balancing out.

Duke came off the bottom of the standings Saturday with a 20-13 decision over North Carolina State (fifth in standings at 2-3). But the Blue Devils still have to defeat spoiler Wake Forest (tied for second, 2-1) and strong North Carolina (fourth, 3-2) if they expect to finish anywhere near their previous position in the final standings.

North Carolina also captured a conference victory Saturday, defeating Wake Forest 26-7.

But for the other teams, playing nonconference foes, it was a lost weekend. Maryland bowed to Auburn 20-7 and Virginia (tied for sixth, 1-2) was steamrollered by Vanderbilt 39-8.

Clemson (first, 3-1) and South Carolina (tied for second, 2-1) were idle after their Big Thursday game, won by South Carolina 28-6.

Two conference games are scheduled for this coming Saturday. Wake Forest at Clemson and South Carolina at Maryland. The other ACC members meet nonconference opponents, North Carolina at Tennessee, Duke host to Georgia Tech, N. C. State host to Virginia Tech and Virginia vs. Virginia Military at Norfolk.

Old Germans retained their lead Friday as Gib's Esso captured second place and chopped the pacesetters' margin to two games with a 3-0 win over Pittsburgh Plate Glass. The Germans nipped Jim's TV, 2-1.

Bub Porter paced the Essomen with a 224-596, and John Cunningham, with 188-515, was tops for PPG. The Germans were led by John Kreitzburg's 213-588, while "Zee" Dining, with 211-560, sparked Jim's TV.

In other matches Robeson Paint and Supply won over Clopper's Oil, 3-0; Tri-State Memorial took a 2-1 decision from McIntyre's Chevrolet; Music Shop edged Silver Lanes, 2-1, and Lucas' Service grabbed the odd game from Monnett's Garage to wind up the evening's action.

Team scoring leaders were Ray Coddington, 190-538, Robeson's; Bob Priddy, 180-511, Clopper Oil; John Smith, 192-560, Tri-State Memorial; Del Mongold, 224-603, McIntyre's; Berl Plummer, 200-576, Music Shop; Frank Warner, 223-571, Silver Lanes; Buddy Haines, 187-528, Lucas' Service; and Bob Logsdon, 176-515, Monnett's Garage. ## Jap All-Stars Trim Cardinals

SENDAI, Japan (AP)—The Japan All-Stars parlayed one hit, a wild pitch, two walks and two errors for a four-run seventh inning rally today and downed the touring St. Louis Cardinals 6-3.

It was the first loss for the Redbirds in three games of their 16 game tour of Japan.

Sad Sam Jones, The Cards' strikeout ace, who relieved starter Ernie Broglio in the seventh, was charged with the loss.

For the All-Stars, the winning pitcher was strong-armed Kazuhisa (The Rhino) Inao, who recently won four games in leading his Nishitetsu Lions to victory in the Japan World Series.

Inao entered the game in the seventh after starter Atsushi Aramaki served up a home run ball to Cards' catcher Gene Green which tied the score at 2-2.

Pitt's Slow Start Hurt, Says Coach

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt's football team starts slower than an old jalopy in January and takes about as long to warm up. Coach Johnny Michelson feels this was partially responsible for Saturday's 14-14 standoff with Army.

While Army was running up a 14-0 second period lead, Pitt's attack coughed and sputtered. "We got into a hole at the start, just as we have in the past few games," said Michelson grimly. "This is a disturbing factor because we can't make use of our total offense. Something has to be worked out."

The Panthers machine suddenly began running effectively only minutes before the half ended. They score a touchdown before intermission and an early second half drive knotted the score.

After that only the grimmest determination of the Cadets preserved No. 1 Army's unbeaten record in five games. Pitt mounted attack after attack, missing on two field goal attempts, one by the narrowest of margins.

Going into the game Army was first in total offense but the statistics came out heavily in Pitt's favor. The Panthers picked a total of 332 yards to only 165 for the Cadets.

At the end it appeared Army was ready to settle for a tie, though Coach Red Blaik later denied it.

Jerome Ellenson Cops Golf Tourney

Jerome Ellenson posted a net 35-2-33 to pace a field of 29 in the even hole tournament of the Men's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend.

Players with flags on par three holes were No. 1—Dr. Howard B. Wood, No. 6—James W. Beacham, Nos. 10 and 15—Harold Marx, No. 12—"Bill" Catherman.

Special Federal Grand Jury Moves Into West Virginia

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A special federal grand jury expands its investigation of police-racketeer connections today from the immediate Pittsburgh area to Westmoreland County, Pa., and the Wheeling, W. Va., area.

U.S. deputy marshals spent the week end endeavoring to serve 22 subpoenas issued for witnesses in the New Kensington, Pa., and Wheeling areas. The inquiry started as an investigation into alleged payoffs to Pittsburgh police officials, but blossomed into a full-blown probe of district racketeers.

Marshall Albert DiMeola said his deputies were having difficulty locating some of the persons named in subpoenas issued Friday.

Gabriel (Kelly) Mannarino, reputed New Kensington racket boss, also wanted as a witness before a New York grand jury, was among the missing.

Mannarino's brother, Sam, and several public officials, who were not identified, were among the persons U.S. Attorney Hubert I. Teitelbaum wanted to question in the closed door investigation.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reported today that six men, said to be employed in a Wheeling gambling house, were among those on the subpoena list.

They were said to be former employees of Nick Miller, a Wheeling gambler who was the victim of an unsolved murder in August, 1957. His body was found in the trunk of his automobile in suburban Wilkensburg.

The Post-Gazette said several former Miller employees refused to divulge to its reporters whether they had been subpoenaed by the grand jury.

Attorney Teitelbaum said the investigation was launched to determine whether any police officials, alleged recipients of bribe money, had committed income tax violations.

"However, it appears that there may be other federal criminal violations involved," Teitelbaum said. He did not elaborate.

No names of persons subpoenaed from Wheeling were announced. But it was disclosed that deputy marshals were serving papers issued from federal offices in Fairmont, W. Va.

Mrs. George W. Legge, executive secretary of Allegheny County Red Cross, stated that each member of the Gray Ladies spends four hours a week on volunteer duty at the local institutions.

Members of the volunteer group write letters for the patients, visit with them, read to them and perform many other duties in ministering to the ill, injured and aged.
